Joe Kenney

Joe grew up as one of five kids in Wakefield, NH. He's a small town boy who helped make his community better. He and his wife are raising their two kids in the small town where Joe grew up.

Helping out the family, Joe picked blueberries to pay for his clothes. He's proud to say he was a pot washer which allowed him to go to camp. His parents owned a restaurant and later an auction business. Joe worked at both.

Like many kids, Joe walked miles to school so he could play on the basketball team.

Joe earned everything he achieved as a Lieutenant Colonel in the Marine Corps (Mustang), War Veteran, State Senator and a UNH graduate. He currently serves as the NH Executive Councilor for our District.

Nina Brown

Nina, over the past 16 years, has worked in our community as an RN at Littleton Regional Healthcare and Ammonoosuc Community Health Services and is currently at North Country Gastroenterology.

She is married to Douglas Brown and they are the proud parents of Tyler and Sara.

As a nurse, she advocates for her patients and as a mom, she advocates for her children - and other children that she sees need help. She is a strong advocate against bullying.

Tyler Brown

Tyler is an 8th grade student at Lisbon Regional School. His parents are Douglas and Nina Brown, and his sister, Sara, attends the BGCNC.

His hobbies are reading, game design and anything to do with science. He is a member of the Technology Students Association, plays the trumpet for the Pep Band and sings in the Chorus Group at school. He also volunteers at the Club.

BGCNC Performers - Line Dance to Cotton Eyed Joe

Directed by Nolan Nightingale, a junior at Lisbon Regional School, who is an employee of the BGCNC. He sings in an Acapella Group and is applying for the National Honor Society.
